NEW YORK MARKET TAKES A DAY OFF

Traders Have a Grouch on General Situation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.-Traders welcomed the respite from business cares and worries, occasioned by the observance, by the exchange and banks, of Lincoln's birthday anniversary. But the day furnished no respite from the usual grist of gossip and the expression feelings of disgust that professional traders, commission houses, and brokers have for the situation in its various phases and possibilities.

There is a deep dread on the part of traders and investors of being further ground between the upper and nether millstones of Rooseveltism and Bryan The investor is earnestly looking for some place to put his money, where he can be reasonably certain of returns, and of ability to realize on principal should exigencles demand. Taft's utterances do not satisfy him. The railroad situation is full of unsolved problems, while the industrial group : not inviting, although just a bit mor encouraging than it has been,

The position of the market is a little better because of the increasing short interest. With that interest eliminate there is nothing to hold it un.

with some encouragement and, perhaps, more discouragement. Rock Island and San Francisco, Canadian Pacific, and some other roads showed anything but satisfactory carnings.

Wall Street in a sarcastic mood has put Canadian Pacific on the "ex-Washington" list, but the report of its earnings for the closing week of January indicates that it is not exempt from the maladies of a business contraction "which Washington had too large a part in bringing on."

maladies of a business contraction "which Washington had too large a part in bringing on."

London and Paris showed a better tone yesterday, but Berlin was yery slow and weak.

One of the most important developments of the immediate future will be the sale of city 4½ per cent bonds. The result of this flotation should reflect the mood of investors more accurately than anything since the return of confidence and the improvement in the financial situation. It is expected that this issue should bring 163 or 164. The city comptroller is looking forward to 4 per cent bond sales at par next fall. It would seem as if there were any number of good 5 and 6 per cent issues of railroad and corporation bonds for investors that would bring in a much more satisfactory rate of returns.

The Street looks for more aggressive bear raids with tomorrow, although the premium in the loan crowd shows that the line of shorts is somewhat extended.

ASKED FOR REDUCED RATES, JUDGE QUASHES INDICTMENT

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 11.-The action against John N. Cole, of Andover, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, in soliciting reduced fares for school children in his district from the Boston and Maine railroad came to an abrupt end today when Justice Aiken, of the superior court, quashed the indictment against him.

Mr. Cole did not deny the acts charged, but contended that they constituted no violation of the law.

Brokers and Professional Comptroller Metz Predicts Large Oversubscription of Issue Friday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.-Herman A Metz, comptroller of the city of New York, has issued a statement in which he expresses the opinion that the $50,-000,000 bond issue which he will make next Friday will be oversubscribed, despite the fact that it is the largest that the city has ever put on the market.

The bond issue is made necessary by the contractural and land liabilities of the city, which amount to about $65,-000,000. Should the issue prove to be successful the comptroller does not anticipate that it will be necessary to sell any more bonds until next autumn. By hat time he hopes that the financial narkets will have undergone a readustment and that it will be possible to a basis he believes that city bonds will prove unusually attractive to conservaive investors.

Comptroller Metz has prepared a bill which will be introduced in the Legislature providing that corporate stock and city bonds of every description shall be exempt from taxation for all puroses, which includes State purposes. He believes that the enactment of such a law will enhance the values of city securities in such measure that many financial institutions, trust funds, and estates which have heretofore avoided municipal bonds on general principles, will be attracted by the new securities.

make a market. There is one thing evident and that s that Washington holders of securities are contented with the position and earnings of their public utility corporations and are not forcing sales. The adverse decision in the gas cases did not bring a rush of liquidation. The insiders, who took quite a quantity of tock on the advancing market up to 75, are not going to liquidate because they have been defeated in their pet scheme. There were numerous bids for the stock around 64, with one five-share of selling at 63½. Washington Hallway, preferred, was little firmer, with sales at 64@64½, and the common was offered freely at 23,

Three or four axe blade gashes about five inches deep were found on the footposts of the cheap oak bed.

The Safest Investments

Are those that do not fluctuate during disc turbed conditions of the money or stood markets. First deed of trust notes (first mortgages), well secured on real estate in the District of Columbia, constitute "glit edge" investments. They do not depend upon the financial responsibility of indi-viduals or corporations for their stability, and are exempt from taxation as personal property. We can supply such invest-ments in amounts from $500 upward. Send for booklet, "Concerning Loans and Investments."
